

New York City's most caring and correct summer dance experience. Small classes, personal attention, kind positive and expert teaching are the reasons why Dance Teacher Magazine voted us #1 in the dance studio and conservatory category. Your child will learn in a creative professional environment that nurtures individual talents. The program is expertly directed by Elizabeth Flores, former head of Summer Dance at Ballet Academy East and Artistic Director of the Harkness Youth Ballet of the 92nd Street Y. Our students have continued their studies at The School of American Ballet, American Ballet Theatre and The Bolshoi Ballet programs as well as international ballet competitions. We are pleased to offer personal attention to each student whether your ambitions are directed to a professional level or a fun, graceful and healthy activity. Cultivate a love of classical ballet and music while make lasting friendships. Join us today!
